and brake assemblies that Ford received from these various suppliers listed.

A Yes.

Q Okay.

Did Ford Motor Company place any written warnings on any of the packaging of the brake linings and brake pads that were shipped to the dealers from 1961 to 1975?

A No, we did not.

Q Have any warnings, with regard to asbestos, been placed on any shipments of brake linings or brake pads up to the present time, to dealers?

A By who?

Q By Ford Motor Company?

A As I testified previously, Ford Motor Company is not in the chain of commerce, if you will, of those brake linings which dealers purchase for after-market replacement.

Q Okay. So, do I understand you correctly, that Ford Motor Company did not ship, sell or distribute any after-market parts, brake linings or pads, to any of the dealers from 1961 to 1975?

A In the normal course of business, that is correct.

Q In the normal course of business. Did they in an abnormal course of business?

A That is a little more difficult to determine.
