Messrs.W.P. Fuller & Co.,
San Francisco, Calif.

Gentlemen:-

GRINDING ULTRAMARINE BLUE:

We acknowledge receipt of your telegram of the 21st inst. as follows:-

> "When will you be able to ship an additional order for fifteen barrels Grinding Ultramarine Blue. State price and shipping date."

The Ultramarine Co. advise that they cannot see their way clear to accept any additional orders for this grade of Ultramarine Blue until after the first of the year, as their capacity will be taxed to the utmost for the next two months in taking care of the orders they now have on hand. They expect to have a batch of this material ready in about a week and will let us have at least a couple of barrels on old orders.

We have not taken up this matter withthe Standard Ultramarine Co. of Huntington, W. Va., as we received a letter from them dated Oct. 13th, copy of which we understand they mailed to you direct, stating that there are still 5 barrels of Ult. Blue due on your order given to Messrs. Tweedy in April of this year, which will be shipped before the material on our order #4805 (your #C.W. 718) calling for 9 barrels. This letter was in response to our request for information regarding shipment of the 9 barrels in question.

We are however taking up this matter with other manufacturers and will endeavor to obtain a match for the #9. If we are successful will send you samples and prices.
