that.

Now, the final question on the state of the art that we have to address is, when was it known that asbestos could cause mesothelioma?

I get to skip a lot of what I was going to say about this, because Mr. McGowan spent a lot of time talking about it this morning.

And he told you, and I agree with him, that it was in 1960 that Dr. Wagner made the association in the first large-scale epidemiological study that exposure to crocidolite asbestos could cause mesothelioma.

There were no such studies during the time period that my client manufactured Kaylo up through 1948.

I am sorry, 1958.

I want to talk to you a little bit about my client, Owens-Illinois, and remind you that there are four defendants in this courtroom, or three defendants and one cross-defendant.

And just like the plaintiffs, whose case you
