NEMA (and General Electric) plan to pursue new PCB regulation challenges for transformers by another rebuttal of the health effects.

The attached document, although dated July 25, reflects their most recent draft.

Please review this document and give me any pertinent corrections and/or suggestions for modifications. If you need other reference material, i.e., the original EPA rebuttal to Drill, Friess and Ecology and Environment (CMA report), I can provide it.

I need your comments by October 31.
