Thank you.

Can you copy the pages on Anniston PCB contamination, Agent Orange and rBST and actually fax to me so we don't have to wait for an overnight? (Are you getting the book today?) As you can tell the strategy meetings on this are heating up.

Thanks.

Bob

The publicist called back this morning. We have a copy coming our way.
The moment we have it in our sweaty little hands, we'll zip it overnight directly to you.

I also have delegates to the Democratic National Convention requesting advance copies for us as well.

I'm working the system here and in New York to find someone with an "in" at Random House or with the reporter. We've also asked Tony Blankley, a colleague in Washington and a columnist for the Washington Times and with the head of our entertainment division.

If I can get my hands on one, it won't be before early next week.

Matt--

Have you been able to make any progress on obtaining an advanced copy of this book (Poisoned Profits: The Toxic Assault on Our children)? Meetings are being scheduled for early next week and we haven't seen the book as yet.

Thanks.

Bob
