IMPROVE THE VALUE AND APPEARANCE OF YOUR HOME WITH A NEW ROOF

YOUR ROOF can give complete protection at low cost and still be one of the most attractive features of your home. By adding beauty it adds value, makes your home distinctive, gives it an appearance advantage and a value advantage over the other homes in the neighborhood in which you live.

If the roof on your home has been in service for a number of years, check up on its condition and see if it is still entirely serviceable. Because of appearance or lack of protection it may be advisable to invest in a new roof.

You will want complete protection, but you will also want enough color and character in the roofing material used to provide the right background for the natural beauty of the home in which you live.

An Attractive, Economical Roof

In U S G Double Coverage Hexagon Shingles you get the two-fold advantage of protection and attractiveness—you get a value-giving roof at a cost that is surprisingly low.

U S G Double Coverage Hexagon Shingles go on rapidly. They are self-spacing and self-aligning. They provide a lasting roof covering that is securely laid with only four nails to each shingle strip. There is genuine economy both in material costs and application costs when you re-roof with this shingle.
