We were aware of the EPA grant to the Cobbtown/Sweet Valley group, but we do not know specifically how it is being used. This is probably separate from the activities of Clark-Atlanta University in the Anniston area, but Cassandra Roberts is deeply involved with both groups, so there is clearly some cross-talk.

Rita,

I am aware of a grant to Clark Alanta University regarding EJ issues in the greater Anniston area. I am not sure if this is a seperate grant or part of it.

I've sent this along to Bob Kaley who has followed the University grant. Maybe he knows.

Jack

I've received a list of the 1996 recipients of Environmental Justice grants and noted the Sweet Valley/Cobbtown, Inc. organization from Bynum, AL received a $20,000 grant. According to the information I have, the "awardee will conduct an environmental inventory of Greater Anniston, Alabama; inform residents about the inventory results; inform residents of policies, laws, and new legislation about the environment at the local, state, and federal; foster citizen involvement and responsibilities to the environment; and identify life style factors that contribute to environmental degradation."

You may have already been aware of this.

FYI.
