Hope both you gentlemen, and Bill Richard, are having a fine time in Sweden. We got an inquiry this week from the New York Times about PCB. The questions are fairly detailed, so I am meeting this afternoon with Garrett, Schalk, Bryant and perhaps Tucker to broaden some of the facts from our position statement in a few places.

About the middle of March, Elmer, you sent me comments about our position statement from the folks at Industrial Bio-Test. I looked over these suggestions and also discussed them with Howard.

Attached is a consequent revision of our March 3 statement. (It is coded "Draft II" at the bottom of the last page.) This version deletes a few sentences, shifts other items around and gives a more detailed description of our research program.

Please let me know if either of you has further thoughts on this version.
