Dear Mr. Bistline:

I thought I should inform you of a telephone call I received today from a Stuart Curry (sp?) of Bloomington, Indiana, regarding health effects of PCBs and the results of the Monsanto PCB study, of which he possessed a copy. He apparently is collecting information, as a layperson, on the current health status of workers in a Westinghouse plant who were exposed to PCB. I provided information on our study to him, and suggested that he speak with Dr. Gaffey if he would like further information. In response to my query, he told me that there is litigation involved in this situation. In this context, I thought you should be informed.

Sincerely,

David C Musch
