Attached is a copy of an article from the July-August 1973 issue of Lifeline, the Naval Safety Journal. Lifeline is published by the Naval Safety Center, Norfolk, Va. They state "contents should not be considered as regulations, orders or directives and may not be construed as incriminating under Art. 31, VCMJ". They strive to present "the most accurate information currently available on the subject of environmental and occupational safety".

This article deals with "Phosphate Ester Base Hydraulic Fluid". I thought you would be interested in its contents.
