Message From The Plant Manager

The season is soon turning to things like ice and snow, Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year. Where we continually stress safety awareness on the job, we must extend this awareness to our personal outside activity, with emphasis on holiday activity. Snowmobiling, skiing, just driving your car, all contain elements of hazard which we and our families must be aware.

Do not ruin this beautiful season by being a victim of injury or death, because we failed to recognize the hazards of our recreational activity.

L. C. Knight

EDITOR'S NOTE: In keeping with our theme of antiquity, the cover is but one of the older items included in this issue. As you will note, the vintage of the first issue of the Broadcaster is June — 1944.

Safety In Action

We are reasonably pleased with the results of our safety contests over the last few years. The number of lost workday cases has dropped, and our objectives in safety have been met or bettered by the end of fiscal 1973-74.

Distribution of popular prizes, to winning department employees, have included Seth Thomas digital clocks, Bulova travel alarms, Coleman Coolers, and Jugs, Ray-O-Vac 6-Volt Lanterns, Imperial Carving Sets, G.E. house light timers, RCA transistor radios, Polaroid cameras, to name a few.

Where distributing prizes is fun, the important thing is a safety awareness on the part of all of us — looking out for yourself and your fellow worker.

Also, as you have seen we have now become a total eye protection facility, together with head-protection in required areas.

We all must cooperate by working together for the ultimate goal of no lost work-day injuries.

Pictured right is the thermometer that the employees in the Warehouse designed during a recent Safety Contest period. With all the employees working hard to keep the slate clean, the thermometer overflowed and the Warehouse, having no Lost Work Day cases, collected their Safety Prize for the first time since the contests began.

Congratulations to all of you.

BRUCE E. BERRY

Bruce retired from his position as Director of Safety & Security on September 30, 1974.

He plans to travel with his wife, Evelyn and we wish both of them a long, happy and healthy retirement.

WHAT GOES ON IN THE CATHODE RAY TUBE (CRT) ROOMS?

Something new at Acme? Yes!! A whole new computer system made by I.B.M.? Burroughs? No, by the people at Singer, who else! Our computer network is called the Singer System 10, better known to the personnel at Acme as the CRT Rooms. Singer System 10 consists of five operators and a lead operator. The CRT operators feed data directly on line into the computer. They accomplish this by operating a Model 80 Display which is similar to your T.V. Screen at home with a typewriter and a 10-key numeric keyboard which is similar to those used on adding machines and calculators.

A Look Back At People — Buildings — Equipment

1884 . . . Acme Quality Paints

ORIGIN

Most business enterprises start in a small way, and there is nothing remarkable, therefore, in the fact that the Acme business was launched December 9, 1884, in this little two-story building on Grand River Avenue, Detroit, Mich.

The four founders — Thomas Neal, William R. Davies, H. K. and A. E. F. White, started Acme with a capital stock of $10,000. It has now developed into one of the largest, exclusive paint manufacturing plants in the world. It covers 13.4 acres, equal to approximately three city blocks long and two and one-half blocks deep. It is located in the "heart" of the city, and in the center of the industrial life.

Other Acme plants are located in Chicago, Illinois; Garland, Texas, Newark, New Jersey, Cleveland, Ohio, Los Angeles and Oakland, California.
