

From: Monsanto Company
St. Louis, Mo. 63167

5/7/82

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH OF
JOHN H. CRADDOCK

John H. Craddock is Product and Environmental Safety Director for Monsanto Industrial Chemicals Co., an operating unit of Monsanto Company.

Born May 30, 1936, in Memphis, Tenn., Dr. Craddock was graduated from Memphis State University in 1958 with his B.S. degree in chemistry. He received his Ph.D. degree in chemistry from Vanderbilt University in 1961.

Prior to his association with Monsanto Company, Dr. Craddock served as a Research Associate at Princeton University and later as a Research Chemist with M. W. Kellogg Company, Division of Pullman, Inc., of Jersey City, N.J.

He joined Monsanto in 1965 as a Research Specialist in the Corporate Research Department. Since that time he has held several research and development assignments. Dr. Craddock transferred to the former Hydrocarbons and Polymers Division in 1973 and became Supervisor, Commercial Development for Petrochemicals. He returned to MIC in 1974 and assumed the position of Project Manager, Commercial Development, for Food and Fine Chemicals.

Dr. Craddock was appointed Manager, MIC Products and Environmental Safety in 1978 and assumed his present position in May 1981. He is responsible for coordinating and managing product safety information and activities related to health and the environment. He has particular expertise regarding polychlorinated biphenyl (PCB) compounds.

-more-

0755240

He is the author of numerous technical publications and holds several U.S. and foreign patents in the areas of transition metal complexes and homogeneous catalysis systems for petrochemical synthesis.

Dr. Craddock has been appointed to serve as a member of the National Academy of Sciences Committee on Disposal of Hazardous Industrial Wastes sponsored by the National Materials Advisory Board of the National Research Council. He is a member of several professional societies including the American Chemical Society, American Institute of Chemists and The Chemical Society (London).

He is married to the former Kathryn Teach of Rochester, Ind. They have two children.

-o0o-

0755241