Dear Ben:

The samples of urine from the group of employees of Toronto Iron Works have been received and analysed, and in the absence of Doctor Sanders, who will not return until the end of the month, it seems advisable to report the results to you without delay. I also send two copies of the report, in case it is desirable to have them as evidence of my statement. I am not sure that they need formal reporting to you or to Doctor Griffin, but if the latter obtained the samples for us, a copy of the report should go to him. You will know this and can be guided accordingly.

As the interpretation of the report indicates, these results are within normal limits, and although any one individual in the group may have had some slight recent exposure to lead, which does not show up in these results, just as a matter of chance variation, the uniformity of the eight results may best be regarded as evidence that the group as a whole took appropriate precautions and thereby avoided any significant lead absorption.

With kindest personal regards,

Sincerely yours,

Robert A. Kehoe, M. D.
