found in Egyptian graves of in peach silver mine—but care must be used for the sulfur dust on the trees will irritate the eyes of farmers and pickers, the University of California Agricultural Extension Service warned today.

The warning was issued to growers in Santa Clara County for May 14, after plants to peach orchards and now empty orchards to harvest the fruit.

Under local conditions of still air and a low wind around dusk, 25 pounds of sulfur will cover 100 acres, the service said. To avoid injury to bees, the sulfur should be applied in the morning.

If a grower is better equipped to spray, the service said, he should use a 100-pound sulfur can and a 100-gallon water can.

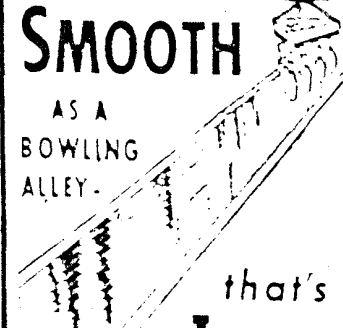

The service also warned growers to avoid spraying on a hot day, as the sulfur will burn the leaves.

Bergna now president of SC camellia group

The Santa Clara County Camellia Society held its annual meeting at the home of Mrs. B. Bergna, president of the group. The meeting was held on May 10, and was attended by a large number of members. The society is a non-profit organization, and its purpose is to promote the cultivation and appreciation of camellias in the Santa Clara County area.
