American Chemical Co. - VCM

Dear Dick:

During a recent discussion with Cy Baldwin of the Stauffer Chemical Company, information of interest on the American Chemical Company's vinyl operations was obtained.

According to Cy, the American Chemical Company is not moving nearly all of their VCM capacity and would be very much interested in making some kind of a deal with another company which would result in greater utilization of their monomer facilities on the West Coast. I did not pursue the matter with Cy, but felt the matter might be of interest to you.

I may have received a one-sided story but from what Cy says, Stauffer has the upper hand in running the American Chemical Company since the president of the company is a Stauffer man. Any contacts might be best channeled through Stauffer for that reason.

Best regards,

C. P. Fullerton
