Dear Mr. Willoughby:

I am very glad to hear that you visited the laboratory during the summer and I am sorry that I was not here when you came. Mr. Thannann transmitted to me your request for all of our reprints, and I am sending these under separate cover. Two other articles are in press and one has just been submitted for publication. These, I hope, will appear soon and I will send reprints of these when I receive them.

With kindest personal regards,

Sincerely yours,
