FOUNDATION BUSINESSES: FOCUSED EXCELLENCE

Dana's foundation businesses are: axles, driveshafts, structures, brake and chassis products, filtration products, and bearings and sealing products. These products hold strong market positions – number one or two in the markets they serve. They provide value-added manufacturing, are technologically advanced, and each has features that are unique and patented. These foundation businesses serve the production and service sectors of Dana's three basic markets: automotive, commercial vehicle, and off-highway; and the components they produce can be combined to form a wide array of complete modules and systems.
