INTRODUCTION

This booklet contains information on the formation, objectives, activities, organization, membership, and history of the American Industrial Hygiene Association.

FORMATION

The American Industrial Hygiene Association was formed in 1939 by leading industrial hygienists as a result of need for an association devoted exclusively to industrial hygiene by the rapidly increasing number of full-time industrial hygienists and others concerned with problems of industrial hygiene. This Association was not intended to replace the industrial hygiene activities of such associations as the American Public Health Association, American Chemical Society and American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, but rather to provide an organization that would embrace all activities related to industrial hygiene.

OBJECTIVES

The objectives of the Association as stated in the Constitution are:

1. To increase the knowledge of industrial hygiene through interchange and dissemination of information.
2. To promote the study and control of environmental factors affecting the health and well-being of industrial workers.
3. To correlate such activities as are conducted by individuals and agencies throughout industrial, educational and governmental groups.
4. To bring together persons interested in the various phases of industrial hygiene.

ACTIVITIES

Some of the activities in carrying out these objectives are:

- (1) Representation of industrial hygienists;—The Association speaks on acts for industrial hygienists in matters of general interest as:
- (a) Dissemination of information on the fundamentals of industrial hygiene.
- (b) Definition of the scope of industrial hygiene.
