Dear Ms. Adams,

You wrote to me on 22nd September stating that you were investigating the possibility of your papers surrounding publication of Sir Richard Doll's 1955 article having survived and I wonder whether you have yet been able to make any progress?

As I mentioned in my original enquiry, if it helps, I should be pleased to visit your office in order to review the papers on the spot and thus avoid the need for unnecessary copying.

Yours sincerely,

J.M. Atkinson
