Mr. Sam K. Botsford
Standard Oil Company (Indiana)
910 South Michigan Avenue
Chicago 80, Illinois

Dear Mr. Botsford:

I am directing this letter to your attention on behalf of The Kettering Laboratory in the College of Medicine of the University of Cincinnati, in the hope that I may find it possible to see and talk with you, even if only to introduce myself and my purpose, while I am in Chicago next week (April 10, 11 and 12).

It is entirely possible, even likely, that you will have little knowledge of or interest in The Kettering Laboratory. Some of the people in Standard Oil (Dr. Adams, for example and Dr. Collings more recently) know us and some of our activities quite well, however, and I am emboldered to write to you on that account.

This request is made on such short notice that I should be embarrassed in suggesting that you suit your convenience to mine. I am merely taking the chance, since I could not arrange my own schedule in advance, that I may find you free to see me. I shall telephone your office and if I can see you I shall be pleased. If it is not convenient, I shall seek another opportunity later.

Cordially yours,

Robert A. Kehoe, M. D.
