Subject: Fwd: Re: info needed to write OpEds on the listening sessions

Hi Tate,

Just a reminder that I need a list of final attendees and what they said when it is available.

Thanks,

Tom

Subject: info needed to write OpEds on the listening sessions

Hi Tate,

I am planning to write a newspaper piece summarizing the anti-coal sentiments (and how that is a mistake) of the KS and SF listening sessions. To do an effective job of this, I would, ideally need:

1- the final list of the groups presenting at the KS session (I was send only the expected list)

2- some way of finding out what was said at the KS session by the anti-coal activists, something more that I saw in the various media coverage of this. Is there a transcript or audio or some sort of summary I could get for the KS session?

3 - the same as the above two for the SF session tomorrow.

Here is a piece I had published a couple of days ago:

We had 30 OpEds published in Feb and 440 in the previous 12 months. Please let know if you would like to be sent the record of all this.

Thanks,

Great - anything you can send me will contribute to me knowing enough to write another OpEd on this.

Governor Eric Greitens'
Statement on EPA Listening
Session in Missouri

Today, Governor Eric Greitens issued a statement in opposition to an Obama-era regulation that the new leaders of the Environmental Protection Agency have opened up for repeal. There is a listening session on this issue scheduled in Missouri today.

“President Obama’s EPA tried to regulate the jobs that they didn’t like out of America. Thank God the new leaders in this administration are listening to the people.

A disastrous regulation pushed by the Obama administration would have eliminated thousands of Missouri jobs, and cost Missourians thousands of dollars. Our electric rates in Missouri would increase by 20% under the Obama rule. Working families in Missouri can’t afford that.

Under the previous administration, bureaucrats in Washington never held a listening session on this in Missouri. Today, that’s changed. Our administration will be testifying and thanking Administrator Pruitt and the new leaders of the EPA for listening to the people of Missouri.

We need to put an end to out-of-control regulations from out-of-touch federal bureaucrats that take money out of your pockets.”
