3 OCF-133 was received into evidence.)

4 MR. SMITH: March 15, 1968, another
5 internal memo of Owens-Corning, to Mr. Boyd, vice-6 president; Mr. Shannon, head of research and 7 development; Grant was V-P, and Hardwick was Kaylo
8 manager; McEvoy was director of research and Staelin
9 was the general counsel and senior V-P.

10 Feasibility study, alternate processes for 11 manufacture of high temperature insulation.

12 Last January you asked me to take a good
13 hard look at the various processes under consideration
14 for the new Southwest Kaylo facility.

15 The most important question which must be 16 resolved before any final selection of process is made 17 relates to the use of asbestos (Silihoff). Because of 18 this problem I also included an evaluation of 19 Multitemp in my report. After all, it is the only 20 asbestos-free product available.
