Subject: Don't Miss Out -- Registration Closing Soon for ACC's Tomorrow's Leadership Council Program

Registration Closing Soon for ACC's 2019 Tomorrow's Leadership Council Program!

Mandy

The ACC's Tomorrow's Leadership Council (TLC) is designed to advance and vest executive talent in the coal industry. TLC is an annual program designed to provide a meaningful opportunity for up-and-coming executives to enhance their industry knowledge and networks through projects and activities that advance industry-wide objectives as well as professional development goals.

The TLC program, which launched in 2009, has had participation by 150 executives from more than 50 companies throughout the coal supply chain.

Participants benefit from professional development seminars, ACC conference attendance, special networking dinners and the opportunity to work on a collaborative group project with others in the program.

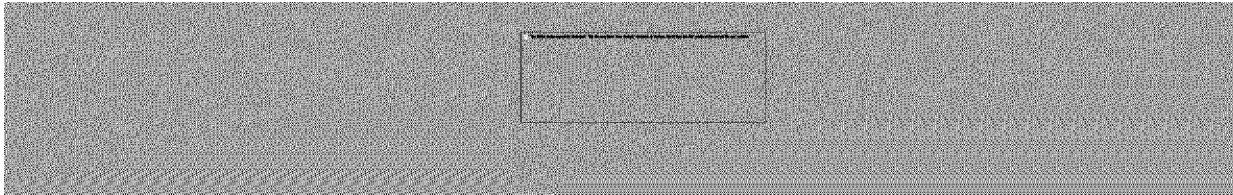

Additional program and registration information is available here.
