Subject: [EXTERNAL] Thank you from Chevron for swinging by today

John, good to meet you today and thanks for coming by Chevron's House at the Agora event at CERAWEEK.

Enjoyed the conversation during the brief tour. The DOE has been a strong partner with Chevron for many years and on several projects, such as the two we discussed today. If you have any other questions about how big companies are partnering with early-stage companies, please reach out anytime. Many more details to share from our 25 years of experience on how best to make that work.

Good luck with the Astros this year! Let's hope they meet the Braves in the WS in October.....
Jim
