I think around 1:30pm would be the best time. Let me know what you want to do. If you want to proceed I will loop you in with his assistants.

Maddy - if we went this route what times were we looking at to give the best chance for the administrator to join?

Sorry for the delay. So timing is going to be tight tomorrow. Ryan Jackson could sit down with him and I can hopefully get Administrator Pruitt to come in and join for a bit. Let me know if you want to go with that route.

I have not forgotten about you! Sorry we are working on solidifying his travel for next week, and there is an all day White House event that we are waiting to get our time slot confirmed. So hopefully tomorrow I can get you an answer. But it is a tricky day/week, just to give you a warning on that.

Maddy: hope your week is going well. Just checking in for an update on the potential meeting with the administrator Pruitt and Monsanto?

Thanks for your help here.

Hey Rob,

We have actually met before on the Denny Rehberg 2012 Senate run. I was Denny's scheduler back in the day. Anyways! SO sorry for the delay. The 25th is tough, because there is an all-day White House event that we don't have the details on quiet yet. Do you mind filling out the attached form, that way all the information we need is included?

Will be in touch soon.

Best,
Maddy

Maddy: I hope you had a great July 4th. I wanted to just check back with you on this meeting request – as well as let you know Hugh wanted to discuss and provide an update on Dicamba.

Thanks
Rob

Maddy & Ryan: Monsanto CEO Hugh Grant (bio below) will be in DC meeting with Congressional Members on Tuesday July 25th. I would love the opportunity to have Hugh meet with Administrator Pruitt during this visit if it works for his schedule. He is available from 10:30-5:30 on the 25th.

Please let me know if something can work. Thanks for your consideration and hope both had a great July 4th.

Hugh Grant; Chairman and Chief Executive Officer

<image001.jpg>

Hugh Grant is the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Monsanto Company, where he leads more than 20,000 employees in 67 countries who work to provide a broad range of solutions to help farmers nourish a growing world. Under his leadership, the company is focused on developing and advancing sustainable agricultural practices to help conserve the planet's natural resources.

Hugh has worked in agriculture his entire career, beginning with a part-time job in college picking lettuce and tomatoes in the countryside of Scotland, to leading Monsanto Company as chairman and CEO since 2003. Over his 35-year tenure with the company, he has worked for Monsanto on three continents, managing key elements of the global business and helping to diversify the company's products and technology solutions.

Under Hugh's leadership, Monsanto has been named to Fortune's World's Most Admired Companies multiple times, and the company is routinely recognized by national and global organizations for employee innovation and workplace satisfaction. He has also been recognized on Barron's list of Most Respected CEOs, Harvard Business Review's Top 50 Best Performing CEOs, and as "CEO of the Year" by Chief Executive Magazine. In 2011, Hugh was inducted as a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Hugh discovered a passion for science while studying agricultural zoology and molecular biology at Glasgow University. He recognized the potential for innovation to transform agriculture and went on to earn an advanced degree in agriculture at Edinburgh University and an MBA at the International Management Center in Buckingham.

Hugh and his family have made St. Louis their home, and he is deeply committed to the progress and prosperity of the regional community. He is an active member of Civic Progress in St. Louis and serves on the board of trustees for Washington University in St. Louis. In addition to his role as Chairman, Hugh chairs the Executive Committee of Monsanto Company's board of directors. He also serves on the board of PPG Industries, Inc., where he is chair of the Nominating and Governance Committee and a member of the Officers-Directors Compensation Committee.
