Dear Dr. Kehoe:

On November 30th our Denver Field Engineer, Mr. N. J. Linstromberg, received a call from Mr. C. R. Paxton, Assistant Division Manager with Continental Oil Company at Denver, who advised him that the town of Thermopolis, Wyoming was being sued for $10,000 by an employee of the town who claims that his blindness was caused by lead poisoning.

Mr. Linstromberg was instructed to advise Jack Cole, Safety Engineer at Casper, Wyoming, who informed us that Dr. Sanders is acquainted with the case and has a report from the Mayo Clinic where the man was treated after an accident in which he was sprayed with chlorine in connection with his work at the municipal water works.

It is possible that the Continental Oil Company office at Denver may wish to communicate directly with you for further advice, and we would appreciate anything you can do to be of assistance to them.

The above is for your information.

Very truly yours,

ETHYL CORPORATION
