Hi John,

As you know, I am working with USDA and DOC to reinvigorate the National Invasive Species Council. In that regard, at the suggestion of USDA's Dr. Sam Clovis, Dan Jiron and I are interviewing associations of state government officials to ask the question "How can the federal government help you better serve your citizens with respect to the invasive species issue?" We'd very much like NACD's perspective on this topic. Can you broker a meeting with some NACD leaders to start a conversation?

Thanks,

Scott
