history of San Mateo county, received outstanding attention during the year of march. Below the picture of San Mateo county in 1770 were the principal of the present-day cities of the Peninsula.

Archbishop Hanna was met with by mounted Scouts when he arrived home from his ad limina visit to the pope at Rome, occupied the chief place of honor in the parade and gave the benediction of the blessed sacrament at an altar at civic center.

The demonstration was in commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Holy Name society on St. Francis day. A features of the parade was the float which depicted the stirring incidents events of the society and the church.

Papal Banners

Market street was decorated with banners of gold and white, the papal colors, and all the marchers carried pennants and wore bronze badges emblematic of the occasion.

Holy Name choirs sang.

Dr. J. Franklin Smith, archdiocesan president of the society, in his address as presiding officer, declared the marching throng were living evidence of the ideals of Christianity which have been proclaimed by the society through the centuries of its existence.

Distinguished Speaker

Former Governor Edward F. Dunne of Illinois, the speaker of the day, praised the triple celebration — the founding of the society, the natal day of St. Francis and the return of Archbishop Hanna — and paid tribute to the work of the society in the promotion
