Technical Committee,

Please indicate your availability using the form located at the following URL by COB Friday, February 8.

So much for being inventive. Several of you have already had issues with the form, so please just forward your availability to me via e-mail (see message below). Sorry for the confusion, but I did test the forms before sending out the message.

I have also attached the latest versions of the spreadsheet from Wayne Stillman, the mark-up of Irons first progress report, and Otto Wong's progress report.

Thank you,

George
