Dudley – We really appreciate your help. I wanted to give you an update on timing. We are planning to hold this announcement until tomorrow morning now. We have some other things popping on our end today. I'll share the final release once it is approved, and I'll keep you updated on timing.

Please let me know if you have any questions in the meantime.

Thanks,
Amy

Hi Amy – thanks so much for your note and outreach.

Yes, we are comfortable and will be issuing a press release in support of any extension that may be forthcoming.

Please let me know if you have any questions or would like any additional information at this time.

Hi Dudley – Tate passed along your email. We are planning to announce the C&T extension tomorrow morning and wanted to make sure you are comfortable with us including this NASDA quote in our press release:

“We greatly appreciate EPA extending the effective date of this rule. While we are supportive of the improved final rule released in January, States are facing a range of on-going logistical, resource, and capacity challenges. These challenges are amplified as they also implement other recent EPA requirements, such as the Worker Protection Standard. Extending the certification timeline will help alleviate some of those challenges by allowing states to work with our EPA partners to ensure adequate training resources and compliance assistance activities.”

Give me a call if you would like to discuss by phone – 202-564-4464.

Thank you,
Amy

Subject: Introduction & DRAFT NASDA Statement on C&T

Andrew & Andrew,

Wanted to send a quick note to: (1) gauge whether NPMA and NAAA will be sending out a press statement in support of C&T extension timeline (assuming such a response will be forthcoming); and (2) briefly introduce you all to Tate Bennet, who recently came on board with EPA's Intergovernmental office.

If we are fortunate enough to see an extension to the Certification timeline, NASDA will be sending out the attached press release in support of that decision and we would encourage other groups to do the same.

Also, I recommend the PPC invite Tate (and possibly one or two of her colleagues) to the next meeting.
