Brandon,

Thanks for the note. I'm probably not able to meet anytime in the next few weeks, but happy to look at late March and early April. If there is something pressing or time sensitive, please let me know.

Best,

Samantha

Hi Samantha,

Preparing for the snow? Hopefully it's not as extreme as the locals are claiming it will be.

In any case, I wanted to circle back with you to see if we could arrange a time to connect in the week(s) ahead.

Best,

Samantha,

It's great to meet you via email.

Our esteemed colleague, Brian Sanderson, sent me your contact per my inquiry.

I work with energy-focused entities at the federal and states levels, respectively.

With that said, I was hoping to connect with you once you are acclimated and the dust settles a bit.

Perhaps we can arrange a time in the coming weeks/month?

Thank you for considering.
