Subject: Governor Scott's Wednesday Schedule

All,

Governor Rick Scott will travel to Washington, D.C. tomorrow and be joined by Agriculture Commissioner Adam Putnam to meet with members of the Florida congressional delegation to discuss Hurricane Irma and Florida's citrus industry. It's estimated that Hurricane Irma caused more than $2.5 billion in losses for Florida's agriculture industry, including more than $760 million in losses for Florida citrus.

Last week, Governor Scott activated a $25 million Florida Citrus Emergency Loan Program to support citrus growers impacted by Hurricane Irma. Learn more about the program HERE. Additional details regarding the Governor's schedule will be released prior to these meetings.
