Hello,

You're invited to attend a VIP launch event for Starship's Eighth Flight Test, which is targeting launch no earlier than Wednesday, February 26th at 4:00pm CT from Starbase in Texas.

An agenda of activities is attached. Please RSVP here to attend.

As you may have noticed on the agenda, this test flight will be an afternoon launch, however we still recommend that you arrive the night before and stay in South Padre Island. As always, make sure your travel arrangements are flexible and refundable should the launch date change. As with any test, there is a chance we don't launch on the first attempt and will need a few days to recycle, so we appreciate your understanding if you decide to join us and there is a delay.

For more information about the flight, follow us on X.com/SpaceX for updates

Thanks,
SpaceX Events Team
