Dear Dr. Kehoe:

In answer to your letter of May 7th to Dr. M. O. Boudry, Waupaca, Wisconsin, in regard to Tetraethyl-lead gasoline, your letter takes first place. In other words, you win. I give up. I just wanted a gram, or one-half dram or I really think three minims would have been enough, just to see for myself what it would do on the skin of this one patient only, by himself alone. In other words, I don't care how much work has been done on it or what somebody else has found out, but as I said before, I'll give up and forget about it. I am not irritated or provoked at you or your department. I appreciate the sincere letter you wrote me.

You remind me very much of a Kehoe that I met at Madison, Wisconsin. I think it was around 1922 or shortly thereafter. That wasn't you by any chance?

Very sincerely yours,

M. O. Boudry
