lice Marble S. F. Win

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5. —Alice Marble defeated Mary Edwick of England, 6-3, 6-1, in a professional tennis match here tonight, before a hometown crowd of several thousand. It was Miss Marble's home-coming performance, after an absence of four years, and the folks at home gave her a warm welcome. Her victory over Miss Edwick was the 25th in the 28 matches they have played since Miss Marble packed away all the phies she won as the world's 1 woman amateur player, and ended her play-for-pay cross-country tour.

pens League aels Today

Indians today. He will be backed by a near veteran and, with shortstop Monte, third baseman "Ike" and center fielder Alec Cerezo, and left fielder Bob Dierckx, all of last year's nine, all defensive starters. John Randall or Herb Atkinson, two catchers of the 1940s, are battling for the backup position left open by the recent injury of Bill "Ace" Harris, sophomore, who was injured in the San Jose State game week ago. Sophomores Ray Hammett at base and Clark Graham in right field are considered almost certain starters, as is junior college transfer Aurelio Caruso at second base. Today's game will be the opening game of the league season for the Gaels, who have played two practice games, showing considerable promise of living up to Mary's record of always having one of the strongest teams in the circuit.

advantage to four at the 27-hole turn. Sarazen, the aging twice national open champion, had said he would take vitamin B tablets to ward off fatigue—provided Guldahl outdove him. Guldahl never did today, and it wouldn't have made much difference, the way Hogan was playing. The triumph was worth $1000 apiece to Sarazen and Hogan, and Sneed and Guldahl collected $500 each.

Coast League Camp Notes

NAPA, Calif., March 5. —The Oakland baseball club went through a brisk drill today in what manager Johnny Vergez termed "the most satisfying workout" of the ten-day spring training program. A wet field prevented batting practice, but Vergez said that the Oaks would probably get in some work at the plate before their exhibition games with the San Francisco Seals Saturday and Sunday.

SAN FERNANDO, Calif., March 5. —Bill Skiff, manager of the Seattle club, plans to send a mixture of rookies and veterans against the Philadelphia Athletics in the opening game of the exhibition series. Skiff nominated Mike Budnick as his starting hurler, with Ed Cole and Les Webber in reserve. Edo Vonn will be in the outfield with Ernie Andrews and Morrie Abbott. Les Scarcella, purchased from Buffalo to replace George Arthide, will be at first; Ned Strickle at second; Bill Shuster at short and Joe Cascarat at third. Joe Cnamme from Spokane and Bob Staggs will do the catching.

BOYER SPRINGS, Calif., March 5. —With veteran Tony Lazzeri sparking, the San Francisco Seals staged another nine-inning training camp game between the regulars and the rookies today. Manager Lefty O'Doul announced his intention of fielding his best possible team in the exhibition games with the Oakland A's on Saturday and Sunday, instead of trying out new players. The Seals lost nine out of twelve similar games with the Oaks last year.

Frank Carroll Gets Army Call

Frank Carroll, graduate manager and freshman basketball coach at San Jose State college, has received orders to report for possible induction into the army between March 17 and 31. In view of Carroll's status as a member of the faculty at State, it is possible that he will be deferred until July 1.

Tech High to Hold First Sport Rally In School History

First sports rally in the history of the school will be staged tonight at Lowell elementary school auditorium by students of San Jose Technical high school.

The affair which gets underway at 8 o'clock is being sponsored by "Tech Knights" Technical High Service club. It is being staged in an effort to pep up the school's unlimited basketball quintet, now undefeated at the head of the Santa Clara valley league race, on the eve of a crucial contest with Washington high school of Centerville.

A full evening of stunts, with plenty of free refreshments, has been arranged. Walt McPherson, San Jose State basketball coach, will be guest speaker, with Tommy Taylor, Spartan cheer leader, leading a number of yells. There will be two masters-of-ceremonies, George Van Leeuwen and George Greenwall.

Bill Peterson of the unlimited team is president of the Tech Knights, while Bert "Smiley" Harris, lightweight player, is chairman of the committee in charge. Other officers of the society are Ken Van Valer, vice president; John Lennon, secretary treasurer, and Cecil Birnbaum, corresponding secretary.

Lewis Deasey, faculty advisor of the Knights, has contributed greatly in time and effort to make tonight's affair a success.
