"We have always used your 'lead'" . . . says Manager of Hotel Del Monte

The Hotel Del Monte in Del Monte, California. Dutch Boy white-lead and flat-ting oil are used for all painting and decorating in this beautiful and distinctive hotel. Below is Carl S. Stanley, Manager of Hotel Del Monte.

California hotel, one of the most beautiful on Pacific Coast, decorated with paint made of Dutch Boy white-lead and Dutch Boy flatting oil . . .

CARL S. STANLEY, Manager of Hotel Del Monte, says that Dutch Boy white-lead has proved satisfactory in all painting and decorating jobs . . . so satisfactory that he will use no other.

This white-lead mixed with Dutch Boy flatting oil was used throughout the hotel to give beautiful, flat finishes on walls and ceilings.

Such finishes are free from laps, joints and brushmarks . . . are perfectly washable even after long service.

Flat paint made of Dutch Boy white-lead and flatting oil is used on fine decorating jobs—like the Hotel Del Monte—all over the country.
Well-known people in the hotel world testify not only to the beauty of finishes obtained with this paint but also to its unusual adaptability for general hotel use . . . for public rooms and guest rooms, for working quarters, too.

Dutch Boy white-lead and flatting oil produce a paint that is practical and economical no matter where it is applied in a hotel.

Hotels soon discover that this paint can be washed repeatedly with soap and water without harming the finish.

The pigment of this paint, white-lead, stays insoluble in water . . . undergoes no chemical change under ordinary conditions indoors. Therefore it does not wash off, nor does it leave streaks on walls and woodwork.

Repaintings are necessary only at long intervals. The cost of maintenance is kept low.
