Dan –

“In order to maintain the quality of EPA’s research, ORD career and political leaders are proposing combining offices and functions into a new Office of Resource Management, including reorganizing staff to the labs and offices where their expertise is most effective. This would not affect anyone’s employment or status and the management of research grants will continue. ORD leadership is currently holding listening sessions with staff across the country to discuss this proposal, so everyone can work together to develop the best organization possible.” - EPA Spokeswoman Liz Bowman

Subject: Request for comment re: shutdown of NCER

Hi, my name's Dan Nosowitz, I'm a reporter over at Modern Farmer. I was hoping to ask a few questions about the shutdown of the National Center for Environmental Research as reported by The Hill. Can we set up a phone call? I'm available anytime, my cell phone number is [REDACTED] Ex. 6 Thank you.

-dan.
