Thanks, Aurelia. I'd be happy to meet with Mr. Hernandez to discuss how we could collaborate with the Dominican government on managing parks and biosphere reserves. Mr. Hernandez, please free to let me know if you'd like to schedule a meeting on your next trip to Washington, or if you'd like to have a phone call to initiate the discussion. I'm very familiar with La Republica Dominicana having attended the Carol Morgan School in Santo Domingo many years ago!
Best regards,

Steve

Dear Eduardo Inchaustegui and Stephen Morris,

I'd like to introduce you both to each other, as there may be areas of collaboration with Dominican Republic and National Park Service (NPS).

Eduardo A. Hernandez Inchaustegui is the Chief of Staff of the Consulate General of the Dominican Republic. He has working closely with his Technical Ministry of the Presidency, which is responsible for the development of tourism in the Bahia de las Aguilas/Jaragua National Park area of the Southwest DR. Mr. Inchaustegui is interested in NPS/International Affairs programs and saw that there can be some areas of collaboration, including but not limited to management of this important, transnational, UNESCO Biosphere Reserve.

Stephen Morris is the Chief of International Affairs for the National Park Service.
