Paul Hodges yesterday mentioned that the Krummrich toxic dump was "showing water", whatever that means. He speculated that he would not want to see a lot of Aroclor buried there. I don't know how this affects our plans to help G.E. and Westinghouse but I wanted to keep you informed.

What does this mean?

Beats the hell out of me - I did say that we were having problems w/ ground water contamination in our Ramsey well from our toxic dump and that I had concern about dumping gross amounts of aroclors which were probably very stable & which could run down to the ground water.
