MAINTENANCE IMPORTANT

That's why keeping old dwellings in the best possible shape for the duration is more important than ever before in our history. Any one putting a home into a state of repair where it is comfortably livable is doing a three-fold duty. He is being patriotic; by helping to ease the defense-worker housing problem. He is adding to the economic wealth of both himself and his country by not allowing a property to deteriorate to such a degree that it cannot be salvaged. And he is contributing to the social betterment of his country, for, as the housing situation becomes more acute, it means that more and more people must live under overcrowded conditions which lead to a lowering of social standards.

Aids Redecorating

"Patriotism in actual practice" is a true description of the way San Diego landlords have cooperated with the local OPA office in stabilizing rents in the face of increased service and maintenance costs, according to S. Robert Frazee, manager of Frazee's two Sherwin-Williams paint stores.

"Our recently announced miracle wall finish called Kem-Tone will prove a valuable aid to these owners of income property when redecorating is needed," Frazee said. "Kem-Tone goes right on over wallpaper, plaster, interior stucco, brick surfaces, in fact almost any surface except calcimine.

"It is conservatively estimated that in nine cases out of 10, one coat of Kem-Tone is sufficient. There is no muss, fuss or objectionable odor to Kem-Tone application. Frazee stores will give a personal demonstration of Kem-Tone to any interested person at Tenth and Broadway downtown, and 2661 University ave., in North Park.

Mixing Method Told

To assure uniform color and proper hiding and brushing qualities, it is necessary to mix paint or enamel properly, according to officials of the F.H.A. It is advised that first the liquid from the top of the can be poured into a clean vessel. Then stir well the pigment remaining in the can, gradually pouring the liquid back—a little at a time—mixing it thoroughly with the pigment.
