Hello Andy, we will get you that AZ information and connect you with an internal SME on LNG feed gas methane intensity. If you need a contact at Cheniere, let me know. They have done quite a bit of work to get ahead of the EU regulations.

Belated thanks for this Dave, very helpful. Kim and Tom, nice speaking with you on the 21st and fun to reconnect for an update on Kinder Morgan. It is near and dear to my heart!

Jarrold and I are coordinating on below and will revert. As a few additional items, can I also ask you to provide whatever information you can on (b) (4)

Additionally, as we work with our "colleagues" in the European Union and Commission on impact of methane regulations and potential equivalency alternatives, your insights into what is practical/possible as an intensity measure of (b) (4)

Can I connect with an expert at KMI and have a brainstorming session?

Thanks again,
Andy

Gentlemen, please see attached. Had I known our legal team would turn this around so quickly, I would have included it in my initial email. We are happy to flesh out these ideas in more detail, but you can be assured that the relevant agencies are well aware of these issues. Best wishes,
Dave

Overall Message:

- The U.S. is facing an energy reliability crisis due to insufficient interstate natural gas pipeline capacity.
- President Trump has declared a national energy emergency and issued Executive Orders 14154 (Unleashing American Energy), 14213 (National Energy Dominance Council), and 14215 (Accountability for All Agencies)—directing agencies to take all necessary steps to accelerate the construction of critical energy infrastructure while preserving existing avenues for landowners and stakeholders to seek redress.
