Code of Conduct

All event participants are expected to behave in accordance with professional standards and applicable laws. Be considerate, respectful, and mindful of your surroundings and fellow participants, of both CPAC 2025 and other events taking place at Gaylord National Hotel and Conference Center. Unacceptable behavior includes, but is not limited to: intimidating, harassing, abusive, discriminatory, derogatory, or demeaning speech; distribution of inappropriate materials; criminal conduct by any participants of CPAC 2025 and related event activities; or any other behavior intended to harass others or distract from the conference. No signage is permitted on the premises without prior authorization. CPAC reserves the right to confiscate any materials and/or remove persons found in violation of this policy at its discretion. Filming for commercial purposes is strictly limited to those with the appropriate CPAC media credentials, and CPAC retains all fair use rights in their intellectual property for any and all commercial filming done during the course of the event. In addition, no partisan politicking is permitted on premises during CPAC 2025. Many event venues are shared with members of the public; please be respectful to all patrons of these locations. Participants violating these rules may be asked to leave the conference. No refunds will be given for those who are removed from the conference for violating any aspect of the Code of Conduct.

Intellectual Property

Neither purchasing tickets to CPAC 2025 nor acceptance of these terms or conditions shall be construed as any waiver of the CPAC's intellectual property rights. Any commercial use of CPAC's intellectual property is prohibited unless approved in writing in advance by CPAC. No photographs or video taken at CPAC 2025 may be used for commercial purposes unless the attendee has obtained written permission from CPAC. Commercial use of any video or photography taken at CPAC 2025 in which CPAC's intellectual property is used will be considered infringement. Professional photographers and videographers and those who are compensated for filming any aspect of CPAC 2025 waive any claim to the doctrine of "fair use" of CPAC's intellectual property. CPAC reserves the right to seek damages for any infringement of our intellectual property rights.

Waiver of Liability

By purchasing tickets to and/or attending CPAC 2025, you agree to assume the risks related to attendance at the event. With the exception of liability to gross negligence or reckless and/or intentional conduct, you agree to release CPAC, and their respective officers, directors, employees, and consultants from the liability arising from your attendance at CPAC 2025. For a full explanation of this waiver of liability, please click here.

Cancellation/Refund Policy

Cancellations will be accepted until December 20, 2024 for a 100% refund. Cancellations between December 21, 2024 - January 5, 2025 will be accepted for a 50% refund. No refunds will be issued starting January 6, 2025. Please contact CPAC@conservative.org or 202-347-9388 to request a refund or cancellation, or with any additional questions.

COVID-19 Waiver of Liability

I acknowledge by registering for the Conservative Political Action Conference that I am purchasing tickets to access the conference, itself, and am not guaranteed availability of seating or standing room to watch any individual speaker. I additionally acknowledge that the agenda is subject to change at any time up to and including changes made during the conference, and there are no guarantees with regard to the agenda or any individual speaker. I additionally acknowledge that the local fire marshal and/or the hotel may place capacity limitations on the event space at any time, and I may be asked to sit in provided overflow space or be restricted from entrance to the facility based on capacity limitations that are outside the control of CPAC, and I do not hold CPAC liable for any of these limitations.
