Hello, Enesta and David:

I hear that the EPA will be making a ruling regarding San Antonio's status in terms of ground-level ozone levels and smog sometime soon. Our reporter Edmond Ortiz here will be working on that news -- is there a list that we can get on so that we are notified when that decision is made? Is there an estimated time/day of delivery?

I work for the Rivard Report, an online news source in San Antonio. It's a pleasure to digitally meet you. :)
