Subject: request for comment on RFS/RINs

To whom it may concern,

Can you respond to a call today by three Philadelphia-area refineries to relief from the cost of RINs under the RFS program? Philadelphia Solutions, Monroe Energy, and Delaware City Refinery, at a rally in Delaware today, said they are spending millions of dollars on RINs whose market price has recently risen sharply. The refineries say the expense may force them to cut jobs.

Can they expect any relief from EPA?

I'm working on this story today so would appreciate any comment at your earliest convenience.

thank you
