THE COURT: You are welcome.

Mr. Williams.

MR. WILLIAMS: Yes, Your Honor, there are a couple of matters we intended to raise before the jury came in, but I know Dr. Hill is trying to get out of here before the lunch break, so maybe we can take them up after lunch.

THE COURT: Very well.

I hope everyone had a good, safe Father's Day, all of you fathers out there.

MR. SMITH: Yes, indeed, Your Honor, thank you.

(Whereupon, discussion off the record.)

(Whereupon, jury present. -- 11:07 a.m.)

THE COURT: Please be seated, everyone.

Good morning.

To all of you fathers out there, I hope you had a happy Father's Day.

As I said to my wife, it was such a beautiful day, I wouldn't object if every day was Father's Day.
