Michael,

Thank you for the clarification and for more information on Austin and Chris. Looking forward to meeting with both individuals if Chris has time.

Thanks,
 Kevin

Kevin - I realize I wasn't specific below so, in case helpful for you, more color on Austin and Chris.

- Austin Knight is the head of Chevron's US and global hydrogen business. FYI he also led the recent DOE National Petroleum Council (NPC) Study on H2, with our CEO Mike Wirth and the Sec. of Energy.
- Chris Powers is the head of our global CCUS business. He is also very interested in seeing Steve, he just unfortunately had some critical commercial meetings arise that have filled his entire CERA schedule. We are trying to work to see if we can find any additional time for him and will let you know.

Really looking forward to seeing you and Steve at CERAWEEK – please let Jeremy and I know if any of those times work well for you and Steve.

Thanks again and see you next week,
 Michael

Great, thanks, Kevin.

Below is the current availability (all times Central) I have for Austin Knight. I do not currently have anything available for Chris Powers but will be sure to update you if some time opens up in his schedule.

- Monday, March 10th: 11:00 - 11:30 AM, 3:00 - 3:45 PM, 5:45 - 6:30 PM

- Tuesday, March 11th: 2:00 - 3:00pm

- Wednesday, March 12th: 11:00 AM - 12:00 PM

Please let me know if anything in these windows work for a meeting between the Acting U/S and Austin. I will then follow up with a calendar invite to organize a meeting location.

Thank you, Michael! I appreciate the introduction!

Jeremy when you have a moment, could you please send times that Austin and Chris are free and I would love to get them on the Acting U/S schedule.

Thank you,

Kevin Tatulyan

Kevin: Great chatting with you. We are very much looking forward to seeing you and Steve at CERAWEEK! Glad to hear you are there Sun-Thursday – we will definitely find windows that work for your schedule.

Adding my colleague Jeremy, who is managing the ever-shifting CERAWeek schedule availability and will know the very latest.

Jeremy: It would be great to get meetings for Austin Knight and Chris Powers. If possible, we discussed potentially having separate 30 min meetings, but we could do a joint one too if that works best for Steve.

Thanks again Kevin and looking forward to seeing you next week in Houston!

Cheers,
Michael

Hi Michael,

Would you be available tonight for a brief phone call after 6:00 PM to discuss plans for the upcoming CERA week.

Please let me know if this time is convenient for you or if you would like to connect at some point tomorrow.

Thank you,

Kevin Tatulyan
