Dear members of the European Commission,

With view on our meeting this afternoon, I am very happy to share with you the recently announced action plans that Chemours intends to take to drastically reduce its environmental impact as well as its global Corporate Social Responsibility Commitment. The new Chemours proactive approach was officially announced during the previous week as a part of the company's strategy to steward environmental compliance and set the CSR standards for the chemical industry.

I hope that the present information will be a good basis for our today's discussion. We are looking forward to our meeting today,

With Kind Regards,
