Scouts Help Garden Club

Scouts Mike Albov, left, and Ford Bailey of Troop 129, Pacific Grove, put dirt around one of the 66 acacia bushes planted Saturday at Monterey's Little League Ball Park on Garden Avenue. The planting was done as part of the civic beautification program of the Monterey Peninsula Garden Club, which plans additional landscaping at the park under direction of Harry Shaw, the city gardener. Fence-hangers giving adult supervision to the scouts are, from left, Scoutmaster Cliff Bailey; Mayor L. M. (Sparky) Pollard; Mrs. Norman Walker, garden club conservation chairman; Mrs. Pollard; and Col. George Baxter, garden club membership chairman.

Arthur Hill Gilbert

In Nail Academy Show

Arthur Hill Gilbert, N.A., is represented by invitation in the current 138th annual exhibition of the National Academy of Design in New York. He is showing his "Winter Hills," an oil painting made in the El Estero area of Monterey.

The distinguished artist, associated with Monterey over a long period of years and active in the Carmel Art Assn. since its inception, now makes his home near Stockton.
