

Mr. [REDACTED]

Complex

INTER-OFFICE CORRESPONDENCE

Dear Dr. Kehoe:

[REDACTED]

very truly yours,

C:C

C O P Y

G. and M. Service Company

Distributors for Eastern Penna. and So.N.J.
Ball and Ball Carburetors

3330 North Broad St.

Philadelphia, Pa.

January 18, 1933

Ethyl Gas, Inc.
Chrysler Bldg.
New York City

Gentlemen:

In our line of work, we come in contact with Ethyl Gas, and in taking out jets it is almost impossible to keep Ethyl Gas off of hands. About ten months ago it affected my fingers causing the fingers to inflame and crack, with a severe itching sensation. As it stayed locally I did not pay much attention to it. About seven or eight weeks ago it began to spread to back of hands. I then went to Hospital on the 9th of December, and explained to them what I thought was the cause. So they made a patch test with both Ethyl and straight run gas. and agreed that the cause was from Ethyl gas. But they have not succeeded in making much progress in way of clearing conditions. So I am taking matter up with you with the hope that you have something or some treatment to overcome this condition. Since being affected with this, I have also noticed that quite a few of our customers are affected the same way.

Very truly yours,

Signed: 