Russ,

Sorry for the delay in responding to your note.

I don't really have enough detail (or the Fudan contract) to give you an opinion on an inflation/exchange rate adjustment.

At first glance, the patient fees, if fixed, should not be arbitrarily adjusted, but we would probably pay the current value in USD for the local fee. Prof Liang's airfare shd be invoiced in current USD, not adjusted 2001 USD. I'd need to learn more about the contract and related discussions with Fudan.

What do you think of the adjustment for currency fluctuations in the attached invoice from Fudan University? Is this something that has been done before?

API is working with Dr. Fu to get the proper documentation for this 2005 invoice and will likely paid them in the next few weeks. Just not sure how much!

Dear Bruce

After the new semester of our university stated I asked my colleague to copy some invoice documents of last year and planned to send them to you. Unfortunately the documents of scanned copies are too big to sent you by email. Would you pls tell me the fax number of your office? I will send them to you.

Herewith Pls find the attachement of the invoice-2005.

In addtion you can use my email address in the university to contact to you. But you would not receive my email through our university email address. I have to use such a public email address to contact to you.
